

HITCHCOCK IN HARD FIGHT TO HOLD HIS SEAT

Nonpartisan League Supporting Republican With Radical Views

WATCHING GERMAN VOTE

William Jennings Bryan Buries Hatchet And Works For Senator

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1922, by The Post Pub. Co.
Omaha, Neb. — Senator Gilbert M.
Hitchcock, venerable leader of the Democratic party, has a hard fight for reelection.

Just now he has the edge in the race and is campaigning effectively drawing big crowds. The contest is a plea for the farmer vote. Defeat is the big issue here. Mr. Hitchcock is endeavoring to show that the low prices of agricultural products and the plight of the farmer is a direct result of the Republican administration.

R. Beecher Howell, Republican nominee for United States Senator, has the open support of A. C. Townley of Nonpartisan League fame.

BRYAN HELPS HIM
William Jennings Bryan, whose brother is running for governor on the Democratic ticket, has buried the hatchet and is fighting for Mr. Hitchcock. The senator's attitude has been that he would not vote to modify the "oldest act in any way which would make it inconsistent with the eighteenth amendment.

He has contended that even if the federal government changed its laws the state of Nebraska would remain dry so far as state legislation is concerned. Mr. Hitchcock has been indorsed nevertheless by the national association opposed to prohibition on which organization, however, merely is expressing its thanks for Mr.
Hitchcock's earlier views and unquestionably is endeavoring to commit him to the wet side of the argument. That being the case there was nothing left for him to do but to send word in effect that the indorsement meant no change in his position. Dissatisfaction within the Republican party is no small factor in this campaign. Mr.
Howell was one of the original Bull Moosers in 1912 and was severely cri-tiqued by his Republican brethren for his failure to contribute to the regular Republican organization. Several prominent Republicans are openly working for the reelection of Senator Hitchcock.

VIEW TOO RADICAL

Notwithstanding the fact that A. C.
Townley sees much to entice in Mr.
Howell's candidacy, the peculiar thing is that some conservative Republican newspapers are fighting equally hard to elect Mr. Howell. The truth of the matter is that the label "Republican" counts for a great deal more when once the nomination is won than do the doctrines that go with the personality who wins. And if Mr. Howell is triumphant it will be because the farmers have not been won away from the prejudices which caused them to overturn this normally Democratic state and give a big majority to President Harding in 1920.

WATCH GERMAN VOTE

It will be interesting to see how the Germans in Nebraska will vote. This is one of the states where the pendulum swung to the extreme and where the teaching of any foreign language, German or French, in the grade schools was forbidden by law. This aroused the Germans and Mr. Hitchcock through his newspaper preached emphatically against carrying the war's prejudices to such extremes. He also favored the treaty by which Germany and the United States declared peace even though the Versailles treaty which he championed so eloquently was shelved.

Some of the Germans who are against the League of Nations are opposed to Mr. Hitchcock because of his fight for that institution. That's what makes the German vote so hard to understand. Germany wants admission to the League of Nations and a place on the council. It is true that some German newspapers do not wish to join unless impartial Americans join too but there is no fundamental opposition in Germany to the League such as is expressed on this side of the Atlantic.

FIND "STRONG" BEER IN WISCONSIN CITY

Milwaukee — On the eve of the second of the federal grand jury, which begins Tuesday, prohibition events returned Monday from an upstate city where they seized samples of beer alleged to contain more than one half of one per cent alcohol. The samples will be sent to Chicago for analysis and if found to contain more than the legal amount of alcohol, proceedings to cancel the brewery's permit to manufacture near beer will be started and injunction and criminal proceedings may result.
Prohibition cases, it is expected will be the first considered by the grand jury. It is expected that the jury will be asked to pass upon the cases of defendants who have been arrested on commissioner's warrants and bound over. Most of these are liquor cases.

HOME BREW BLAST IN PRISON SCARES COPS

Rock Island, Ill. — Rock Island police, their hands on their hips constantly the past few weeks in expectation of gun play, received a riot alarm from the precincts of the city prison last night when a half gallon of confiscated homebrew stored in a cell exploded, causing a near panic among officers seated about the station.

It was near midnight when a loud report issued from the cell room. The officers rushed towards the source of the report with drawn revolvers suspecting a riot gun attack from within.

Bonar Law Succeeds David Lloyd George As British Premier

Scotchman Unanimously Elected To Leadership Of Unionist Party
PLEDGES IRISH FREEDOM
New Premier To Outline His Policies In Speech
This Week

By Associated Press
London—England today had its first conservative premier in 17 years, in the person of Andrew Bonar Law who, although asked by the king last week to form a cabinet, deferred his definite acceptance of the premier ship until today when the Unionist party went through the formality of electing him its leader.

The conservative meeting held at the hotel Cecil was attended by 33 members of the party, including many of those whose names are famous in British statesmanship. The new premier was elected unanimously.
Absent from the meeting were prominent unionists such as Austen Chamberlain, Lord Birkenhead and the Earl of Balfour, all three of whom last week revolted from the decision of their party to return to party independence and to quit Mr. Lloyd George. To the revolting members Mr. Bonar Law held out the olive branch expressing the hope that they would return to the fold.

KEEP IN BACKGROUND

The rise to power of Mr. Bonar Law, the retiring Scotchman, with tendencies bordering on those of a recluse, bring to the forefront a man who remained in the background contending until the hour came and his great brain was called to the service of his country. The force of circumstances involved in the collapse of the coalition government has finally driven him from his beloved pipe and arm chair to assume the highest office in the power of the people of the British commonwealth to award.

Contrary to expectations the new premier did not outline his administrative policy, reserving that for later in the week. He did say enough, however, to indicate that he proposed to follow the course which the conservatives have called for namely "peace, safety and economy."

Mr. Bonar Law declared that this is not the time for introducing big schemes which might be beneficial to the empire. He hoped for a period of quietness he said. This was taken to be a reference to tariff reform which Mr. Lloyd George and the Lab-orists have been pushing. The new premier committed his government to carrying out the pact with Ireland regarding the emancipation of the country.

Marquis Curzon who presided at the meeting in a speech proposing Mr. Bonar Law's election as party leader said that what the country wanted was stability and not sensation, peace at home as well abroad, no extension of its responsibilities
but a curtailment of the present burden.

HIGH SCHOOL WINS 42 TO 7; LAWRENCE 0, BELOIT 0

BOTH SIDES USE AERIAL ATTACK; GAME IS SNAPPY

Briese Again Stands Out In Denney's Flashy Grid Machine

APPLETON high school took its fourth straight victory of the year Saturday afternoon in one of the best contests staged on the Lawrence field Saturday afternoon when it beat the fast West Green Bay grid-ers by a score of 42 to 7.

Outplayed in practically every department Green Bay found its flying spirit in the second quarter and tore through Appleton's line for a touchdown. The visitors played an open game throughout and Appleton retaliated with four passes that resulted in one touchdown after another.

The game was fast and the teams fairly flew over the field except in the first quarter in which Appleton kept the invaders close to their own goal line.

PLEASED WITH GAME
Before the tilt ended the several thousand spectators that witnessed the game were in accord in their opinion that Appleton has another championship squad also that in Harold Briese, captain of the team the Appleton team has possibly the best fullback in the state. Bonini, at center, roved about the field in a manner that had the Purple worried in all stages of the battle. Versteegen and Gerou also are due for whole lot of credit. Both halves tore through the West Green Bay line for ten yard gains time after time.

Of the touchdowns five were made by Briese and one by Bonini. The center kicked goals each time. Appleton got three touchdowns in the first quarter, one in the third and two in the fourth.

MAKES "BONE" PLAY
West Green Bay played a stellar game with but one exception in the first quarter when Bader, platoon line visitor from fullback threw a pass from his own goal line after his team failed to make headway in the third attempt. As it was, Briese intercepted the pass and ran 15 yards for a touchdown. This was followed by another easy touchdown when Briese caught a forward pass from Mills. This play was accomplished with Briese stealing to the sidelines unobserved by Green Bay and the ball passed to him by the quarterback. Immediately after the second touchdown Mills and Briese repeated the play but lost the touchdown because the ball was snatched before Appleton linesmen got into their positions.

In the shadows of their own goal, West Green Bay received the ball through a fumble, the center snapped the oval to the quarterback who in turn passed it to Hansen at left half, but the latter missed it and Bonini rushed for the rolling oval and with the impetus went over the line for a touchdown. He then kicked perfect goal for the third time.

The quarter ended 21 to 0 in favor of Appleton.

GREEN BAY'S QUARTER
Green Bay got into Appleton's territory early in the second quarter. The Purple players were fighting mad and after a series of forward passes with Rather, Bader and Haupt carrying, Green Bay carried the pigskin to Appleton's 20 yard line. Captain Bader then tore through to Appleton's 30 yard line, evading three Appleton tacklers but was downed finally by Stark. Appleton's line held like a stone wall for three downs but Bader ripped through on the fourth try for a touchdown. The Green captain kicked goal. Green Bay outplayed Appleton in this stage of the game, completing one forward pass after another, throwing a score into the Appleton section and renewing the hopes of the 400 Green Bay rooters who accompanied the team to the Paper City.

Green Bay made a number of substitutions in an effort to tire out the Appleton players. Coach Denney realizing that his men were beginning to master the aerial attacks of the opponents refrained from changing the lineup until the last part of the fourth quarter, with one exception in the second quarter when Schiebler went in for Bier at left tackle.

Some more pretty forward passing figured in the opening of the third quarter when West Green Bay carried the pigskin to Appleton's five yard line. Things looked gloomy for Appleton but a pass in over the goal by Green Bay was fumbled and Green Bay lost the ball.

Playing was resumed on Appleton's 20 yard line with Appleton in possession of the ball. Briese advanced the pigskin another 15 yards, Appleton continued to gain ground, ten yards at a time or more, with Versteegen, Gerou and Briese carrying the ball. West Green Bay put up some resistance at the 10 yard line but finally the ball was pushed across, and Bonini kicked again. The third quarter ended with a score of 28 to 7.

SCORE IN FOURTH
The fourth quarter opened with Appleton holding the ball on the enemy 7 yard line and second down. The ball was carried over the goal on the first attempt. Both teams opened up in this period and the game resembled a basketball game. Coach Denney rushed in a lot of fresh men. They were Schiebler for Verwey, Hilman for Ashman, Bonin for Kampus.

STAGG OVERHAULS CHICAGO ELEVEN

Maroons Due For Hard Work To Prepare Them For Tilt With Princeton

By Associated Press
Chicago, Ill.—Alonso Stagg, veteran master mechanic of construction of the football machines at the University of Chicago today began an intricate overhauling of his Maroons in preparation for the Princeton game the country's leading football attraction next Saturday.

Despite Chicago's clean record of three victories, two of them in Western Conference games, Stagg is not satisfied with the Maroons who are in for a vigorous going over this week.

Most of the week will probably be devoted to preparation of attack to be used against the Tigers.

The Maroons are looking for some surprises from Princeton and it is Stagg's idea to make the Tigers do some guessing themselves.

Some teams of the big ten two of them leaders in the championship race will risk their conference standings next Saturday. Bob Zuppke's Illini who sent the dome bucket spinning last Saturday by holding Iowa to a 6 to 7 score, meets Michigan, whose victory over Ohio state placed them in the first division. Iowa plays Purdue and the Minnesota Gophers who barely landed in the first division by getting a 7 to 7 tie with Northwestern meet the Buckeyes. These are the conference games, Wisconsin and Northwestern are idle and Indiana, tail orders of the second division meets the Michigan Aggies.

ROD AND REEL

FALL FISHIN'
There is no time in the entire fishing season that is more delightful than the fall or autumn, and at that, outdoors, the big game fish have more or less moved up in their tails in the cool of the fall than they have in the warm summer days.

The early spring fishing is generally on a par with the fall sport. After the water feels the cooling effect of the fall days and the frosty nights, its temperature slips down a bit and the fall kickers become incalculable with a bunch of pop that puts grinners in their teeth!

And the woods and all outdoors seem to be doing their best to show off the wonders of the beauty of nature. Just to sit in a fellow the info that is not all of fishing merely to fish. After the first frost has nipped the leaves and they have changed to countless shades of yellow and orange, with the golden tints and dashes of red standing out in patches against the darker green of the pines, then between casts we can drift along and thank the nine gods that we are on the water trails in the fall.

The hot days of July and August have been shot into the discard, and with them all the thousands of insect pests that increase the ruddy's average of the fishing gentry as they try to interest the lazy fish in a varied assortment of baits and lures.

And another thing in favor of the fall game is that you do not have to arise before the sun in order to get to the fishing water while the fish are still in the shallows feeding, nor do you have to wait until dusk or darker to take a cast at them with some chance of finding them in a striking humor.

In September the game fish come back strong after the dull and sluggish days of summer, when they have been devoting most of the daylight hours to lazy stunts on the bottom of the deep cool pools, and with the cool days of October, and even up into the snows of November, you can select most any kind of a plug or lure and stand a good chance of landing the big ones. The colder waters seem to make 'em want to fight the highly colored artificial of pure cussedness, and they wallop the plug with a strike that often sends it high in the air.

Heideman for Mills and Kranzsch for Versteegen.

An intercepted pass by Versteegen gave Appleton the ball on Green Bay's 15 yard line and resulted in another touchdown a little later when Heideman passed the oval to Briese who ran over the goal. Bonini kicked. After this both teams saw-sawed over the field and each attempted field goals when they found it impossible to make further headway. Green Bay's foot was blocked while Briese kicked too low.

The team started out with the following lineups:

Poor Leadership And One Bad Break In Luck Keep College From Win

Victory Snatched From Lawrence In Last Second When Drop-kick Hits Goal Posts—Blue Outplays Gold Team

Lady Luck, disgusted with the way she had been treated, turned sharply against Lawrence college at Beloit Saturday afternoon and snatched away a three point victory in the last second of play, when the football, drop-kicked by Doering, crashed against the goal posts and bounced back into the playing field just as the timekeeper's whistle shrilled the end of the battle. It was a thrilling climax to a spectacular game which Lawrence should have won by at least two touchdowns. It ended in a scoreless tie. Luck was with the Blue and White all the way until that last late, only three minutes before the last break Beloit had the ball on Lawrence's six yard line, with a touchdown almost sure, when the ball was fumbled and the Blue and White recovered. After two minutes of kicking Beloit put the ball in play on its own 40 yard line and began throwing passes, one of which was intercepted by Berry who ran to the Beloit 20 yard line. With 45 seconds left to play, Jacobson went into the quarterback position and called an end run with Goan carrying the ball, but the desperate Beloiters broke through and dumped him for an eight yard loss. One last chance remained and while the timekeeper was counting off the last few seconds Doering tried a dropkick from the 32 yard line. He was at a bad angle and kicking against the wind. Three thousand partisans, who three minutes before had seen their own team fail in a pinch felt their hearts jump into their throats as the pigskin soared through the air, and then came the wild, tumultuous shout as it struck the post and bounded back.

POOR LEADERSHIP LOSES
Lawrence outplayed and outkicked Beloit all through the game but Beloit outthought the invaders. Poor generalship and Beloit's desperate, fighting defense when its goal was in danger saved off victory for McChesney's men. Lawrence was in a position to score at least three times but poor judgement on the part of quarterback Kotal robbed McChesney's team of the win and possibly a clear title to the state championship. Kotal ran his team well in the middle of the game but his passes were left a great deal to be desired.

McGlynn and Blackburn surely played a wonderful game in the line. They made the highly touted McAuliffe look bad, spilling him time and again. None of the other Beloit backs were able to do a thing and the long quarterback was obliged to carry the ball nine out of every ten times.

LAWRENCE LINE STRONG
Berry and Stohl on the ends all day were strong on the defense, breaking up the fair, famed passing game in good style. While passes were responsible for Beloit's only invasion of Lawrence territory, Lawrence as a general thing smeared up the passing game as much as could possibly be expected. Grover and Basing were the great stars in the Lawrence back line, the former making some especially long gains in off tackle smash-es. Lawrence completed the majority of its passes but only a few were used. Kotal keeping his men plugging at the line, even when a touchdown was in sight and the Beloiters were playing tight together. Lawrence gained far more ground than Beloit and almost the entire battle was fought in Gold territory. It was a case of faulty leadership losing for the better team.

GET FIRST BREAK
Lawrence got the first break in luck in the first two minutes of the game when Stohl broke through and blocked a punt, Lawrence recovering the ball on the Gold 28 yard line. Three plays gave the Blue and White first down on Beloit's 18-yard line. Kotal tried to run around the end but was stopped when he reached the line of scrimmage. He tried it again and was thrown for a 4-yard loss but Grover made up that loss on the next try. A forward pass, Basing to Kotal was completed but Kotal fell as he grabbed the ball and Lawrence failed by about a foot of making the distance. Beloit getting the ball on its own 9 yard line, McAuliffe kicked on the first down, Basing who made a splendid return to the Gold 27 yard line where play was resumed. Stohl tore off tackle for four yards and Basing added four more. Berry advanced the ball one more yard and with only a yard more to go to gain first down Stohl stopped in his tracks and Beloit got the ball on its own 15 yard line. After one try at the line McAuliffe tried to punt and again the ball was blocked but this time a Beloit man recovered it on the Gold 11 yard line. McAuliffe punted again, Basing taking the ball and carrying it to the Gold 35 yard line. Lawrence failed to gain and Basing punted out of bounds on Beloit's 9 yard line and McAuliffe immediately punted back to the middle of the field. Lawrence got another break when Nelson was caught slugging, chased from the game and Beloit, penalized half the distance to its goal, Lawrence putting the ball in play on Beloit's 25 yard line. Fifteen yards of this advantage was lost on the next play when Smith was penalized for roughing.

FUMBLE SPOILS CHANCE
Lawrence moved on another 10 yards when Kotal caught a pass from Basing but on the next play Kotal fumbled and Algeo recovered for Beloit on its own 20 yard line. McAuliffe punted to Kotal who returned to Beloit's 20 yard line. On the next play Beloit got the ball and McAuliffe made his first real gain of the day, a 10 yard dash through the line, just as the period ended McAuliffe gained 4 more yards.

After two tries at the start of the second quarter McAuliffe punted to the Blue 40 yard line and Lawrence started a march to the goal which was halted when a 15 yard penalty was plastered on for holding. Basing punted and Beloit got the ball on its 20 yard line and the Gold quarter-back immediately punted to Kotal who ran back about 20 yards to Beloit's 30 yard line. Four plays gave Lawrence a first down, Basing to a yard but a forward pass, Basing to Kotal, was intercepted by Berry who ran to the Beloit 20 yard line. Kotal sent Grover against the line and he gained a yard. Stohl added four more in a squirm over guard, putting the ball on Beloit's four yard line. A pass over the goal line then failed and Beloit was saved.

The Gold quarterback tried to run from his 20 yard line but was downed for a loss. Radebaugh also was pushed back and then McAuliffe punted to Basing who fumbled, Beloit recovering near the middle of the field. The first Beloit play, with Addie carrying the ball, lost five yards and then McAuliffe tried it, gaining only one yard. The quarterback punted out of bounds on Lawrence's 25 yard line. Ruhlmann went into the halfback position for Grover and immediately Basing kicked to Beloit's 35 yard line. Radebaugh gained 25 yards, Algeo was thrown for a loss, McAuliffe gained one yard and then punted to Lawrence's 30 yard line.

Lawrence carried the ball to Beloit's 35 yard line where it lost it on downs when two passes failed. Kotal fumbled the first after the ball was in his hands, and the second was broken up. The first Beloit pass failed but the second gained 9 yards just as the period ended.

DROPKICK FAILS
Lawrence kicked off to start the third period and Beloit put the ball in play on its 25 yard line. Three forward passes carried the ball to the center of the field and then Hunting intercepted a throw, giving Lawrence the ball on its own 40 yard line. Basing tore through for first down on the first play, Grover recovering on its own 40 yard line. The gold completed a pass but for no gain, the next pass was broken up and then a pass, McAuliffe to Addie gained 10 yards, putting the ball in the center of the field. Three more passes were tried but all failed and then Beloit punted 15 yards. A pass from McAuliffe to Addie gained 20 yards but did not give first down and McAuliffe punted, Lawrence returning to its own 45 yard line. Basing made two yards on his first try and added 10 more on the next. Grover went through for eight yards but the gain was wiped out when Lawrence was penalized five yards. Grover again made eight yards, Basing added two more and then Lawrence fumbled but recovered on the fourth down, the ball going to Beloit. McAuliffe lost five yards on his first try and punted out of bounds. On his 28 yard line on the next, Stohl tore through for five yards on the first play, Basing failed to gain, Stohl added a yard and then Doering, who went in when Grignon was taken out, tried a dropkick from the 30 yard line but the ball went wide of the posts. He kicked from a difficult angle.

START PASSING GAME
Beloit got the ball on its 20 yard line and began uncorking every pass it knew. Two plays gained 10 yards but the next three plays were broken up and McAuliffe kicked to Kotal who fumbled but Lawrence recovered on its one 34 yard line. Kotal made it first down on the first play with a rain of 11 yards and Grover added four more. The quarter ended with Lawrence holding the ball on its own 45 yard line. Stohl gained 9 yards in two plays and gave Lawrence an other first down. Goan went in for Grover and Lawrence carried the ball to Beloit's 38 yard line where the Gold recovered a fumble. Two passes failed and McAuliffe was thrown for an eight yard loss. He kicked to his own 40 yard line where Kotal fumbled and McGlynn recovered. Kotal gained 3 yards and Goan added 12 more, putting the ball on Beloit's 20 yard line. Kotal lost 5 yards on the first play and Basing lost 15 yards on the next. Addie broke through and nailing him. Ruhlmann went in for Kotal at this period and gained 15 yards on the first play but he lacked many yards of making first down and Beloit got the ball on its own 25 yard line. Langworthy went in for Addie and was stopped in his first effort to gain. McAuliffe kicked out of bounds on Lawrence 30 yard line. Goan lost 5 yards in an attempted end run and on the next play Basing kicked to McAuliffe who returned to Lawrence's 40 yard line. Two passes put the ball on the Blue 22 yard line and then the state liners almost got away for a touchdown when a Lawrence man intercepted a Beloit pass, but fumbled the ball into the hands of a Beloit who was stopped eight yards from the Lawrence goal. Beloit stopped for a conference and tried to hit the center but the ball was fumbled and Lawrence recovered on its 6 yard line. The Blue began a determined attack which netted 22 yards when Stohl was hurt and Holmes went in. The assault stopped when Basing also was hurt but he remained in. Berry punted to Beloit's 38 yard line where McAuliffe was downed in his tracks. A pass gained 10 yards for the Gold and the next throw was intercepted by Berry who ran to the 20 yard line. Only 45 seconds were left when Jacobson went in for Ruhlmann. Goan lost 8 yards on the first play and in the final breath of the battle Doering tried the dropkick which

YE FISHING AND HUNTING COLUMN

By M. J. V. Fose

Illegal Netting on Wolf River.
Many illegal fishing nets were captured on the Wolf river last week by game wardens from Madison, Wis. who have been scouring the Wolf river from Lake Poygan to Gills Landing.

From the information that was obtainable it was learned that there were nine or more game wardens in the party that set out a week ago in a launch to which were attached small motor boats for the capture of the numerous nets that have been placed in the Wolf river. It is said that this netting of white bass, pickerel, perch and any other game fish that could be gathered in the nets has been going on all summer unhampered until reported by some lawful fisherman who evidently had seen the nets being dragged from the river. The nets it is said were placed by the outlaws at dark and drawn up in the black of night when the coast seemed clear.

It is said that many of the natives along the Wolf river have been selling fish in quantities to tourists and seemed well supplied with fish, while "lawful anglers" failed to get their "limit" fishing with hook and line.

Madison — The state conservation commission today informed its wardens that they are strictly forbidden from accepting employment as deputy sheriffs or prohibition agents while connected with the state department.

W. E. Barber, chairman of the commission, in his letter said that wardens could not be permitted to have anything to do with the enforcement of any laws excepting those under jurisdiction of the commission. He said that wardens were positively forbidden from acting as prohibition officers, and advised the men that they should "attend strictly to the business of enforcing the conservation laws."

Madison, Wis. — Six years of protection have brought prairie chicken and partridges back to Wisconsin in large numbers, conservation wardens reported to W. E. Barber, state conservation commissioner today. Re-missed giving Lawrence a victory by a scant two inches.

Wheeler, former Lawrence man, now playing end for Beloit, was almost helpless. In fact the entire Beloit team with the exception of McAuliffe and Addie failed dismally in carrying the ball and it was only by the State Line school's wall and its back, ranks above Beloit's stars.

SPORT FLASHES

Paris—Mlle. Bracquemond established a new world record for women when she ran the mile in 5:09 2-5.

Washington—Walter Hagen, British open golf champion, and Joe Kirkwood, Australian titleholder, were defeated 3 to 2 by John Farrell and Wilfred Reed in a special formally opening of the Indian Spring Club course.

Hartford, Conn.—Four race horses, Almaden Onward, Harry Do and Abe Direct, pacers and Daybreak, trotter, were burned to death in their stalls when fire swept the Charter Oak stables. Another trotter was so badly burned he was shot.

Rio Janeiro—Brazil won the South American football championship, defeating Paraguay 3 to 0 in the final game of the season.

plies to a questionnaire sent out by Mr. Barber show that these game birds are again plentiful in the state and that the short open season this year did not result in inroads being made into their number.

According to the conservation commissioner partridge are particularly numerous in the northern counties where their numbers have been greatly replenished during the years of protection. Prairie chicken were said to be found most plentiful throughout the central counties.

The reports say that about the same number of hunters were in the field during the 1922 season as in 1921.

Recommendation is made by the wardens that some provision be devised for feeding the birds during the winter months. They suggest that it might be possible to purchase corn and buckwheat still in the fields and let it stand for the birds during the cold weather.

Last year thousands of game birds died of starvation as a result of the heavy sleet and snow storm that swept the state. Efforts will be made to prevent a recurrence of such a situation, Mr. Barber said.

Madison — Badger snarls were reminded today that the deer season opens this year at daylight on Nov. 13. The season extends from Nov. 13 to 22, both days inclusive, according to Chairman W. E. Barber of the state conservation commission.

The change in the dates of the open season for deer was made by the 1921 legislature. Under the law only bucks at least a year old may be shot. Mr. Barber declared that his wardens had been given instructions that a year old buck would be considered one whose horns were at least four inches in length.

That the deer law will again be changed by the 1923 legislature was the suggestion of Mr. Barber, who stated that a conference will be held shortly between the commissioners of Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota. It is planned at that time to arrange on dates for the important seasons that will coincide in all three states. The recommendations as result of this meeting will probably be presented to the coming sessions in all three states.

Brawn No Longer Essential To Winning Football Team

Seventy-five Per Cent Of Ball Played Above Shoulder—Most Active And Intelligent Men Make Best Players

BY "BO" M'MILLAN
(All America Quarterback)
What part does brute strength play in modern football?
Is brain and speed more essential than brawn in the open play that now features the grid game?
When a coach looks over his available material what style player has the most appeal?

The good old game of football has changed much in the last 10 years. The successful coach must adapt himself to existing conditions. A coaching system that was successful 10 years back would be an absolute failure today.

BRAWN NOT ESSENTIAL
There was a time when football games were won by brute strength and awkwardness, but today we can't find a place on a successful team for the man with a "million-dollar body and a 10-cent head."

My experience has proved conclusively to me that this scientific game of football is still in the embryonic stage, therefore it is imperative that we choose the most active and intelligent men for our eleven.

Each season we are introducing new modes of attack and our field general is constantly changing his defense in order to successfully cope with these strong offensive experiments.

The general conception of a quarterback is one who directs the attack, but today both the defense and offense is directed by the wise field general.

MUST SHIFT STYLES
It has been my pleasure to act as field general for Centre College during the past four years. It was necessary to change our style of play for each game.

From my experience at Cambridge in 1920 it was evident that our success in 1921 depended upon the ability of our field general to instantly diagnose each Harvard formation and meet it with the proper defense. As I backed up the line I was in a position to direct my linemen.

Those of you who saw the game will remember that I had my center out of the line on practically every pass that Buell attempted. Although our 1921 line was lighter than 1920 we were able to stop their line thrusts because our center had been shifted up into the line.

I have always tried to direct an offense which would require the least bit of energy because when we shift to the defense we want our backs and ends to have plenty of speed to come in fast on opponents' offense.

RESORT TO STRATEGY
In the Tulane, Auburn and Washington & Lee games last year our secondary defense always came in exceptionally fast and never allowed our opponents to gain around the ends or by forward passes.

Our team was criticized by a number of sport writers for getting our plays off so slow, especially was this noticeable in the Harvard game. Centre had a reason for using such methods.

On our close formation I would call a series which would indicate the point of attack. We would then try to widen the hole in the defense by calling short series of signals and shifting to and fro to pull the defense over. Just as soon as the hole was assured the snapping signal was called and our backs were through the hole like a streak.

Yes, it takes a smart team to play that kind of football, but, as I said before, 75 per cent of the game of football is played above the shoulders.

GREEN BAY HELD TO SCORELESS TIE

Milwaukee Surprised By Desperate Defense Of Buck's Team

Milwaukee—The Milwaukee Badgers didn't do so well on Sunday. Picked to trample on the Green Bay Packers, the best the all star combination could do was to hold the northern eleven to a scoreless tie. Over 6,500 viewed the spectacular battle at Athletic park.

The local team was hampered by injuries to Duff, and Pollard, who played only a part of the game. During the time he was in there, Pollard played a bangup game, but his injured leg was twisted again, and he had to retire.

Green Bay was a surprise. Led by Cub Buck, the former Badger star, the Packers presented an impennable defense in the first half. The Badgers were outclassed entirely in this section of the tilt and it was not until the third and fourth periods when they asserted themselves for material gains.

Duff was injured early in the game and retired. Doane, the Milwaukee fullback was the star of the local cracking the Green Bay line for long and frequent gains. Three times the Milwaukee team had a chance to score, but lost it when in the shadow of the goal post.

The first half was played almost entirely in Milwaukee territory and the game lacked a punch.

Play At Wausau
The Blue Bandits recently presented by Oney Johnston post of the American legion under the direction of John T. McDonough, author and composer, is to be put on at Wausau Nov. 1 and 2 by the Talbot Montgomery post of that city. The first rehearsal was held last week.

PURLOINS CAR TO ENTERTAIN GIRL; YOUTH ARRESTED

Police Recover Car Stolen Here 90 Minutes After Getting Report

Within an hour and a half after his automobile had been stolen, Robert Halford, 434 Pacific st., recovered the machine at New London Sunday evening and the suspected thief was placed under arrest.

Mr. Halford reported the theft of his Ford coupe to the police at about 5:30 Sunday evening and the police immediately sent messages to the surrounding cities. At 7:05 the car was reported found in New London in the possession of Charles Barkholtz, whose address is Route 5, Appleton, it is alleged.

Barkholtz, the police report, declared that he wished to take a New London girl to a dance, and not finding her at home, drove about the city in search of her. A visit by Chief George T. Prim to the home of the girl, revealed that the man had inquired for the girl there, thus confirming that part of the story.

The man was brought to Appleton and lodged in the city jail. In municipal court Monday morning he was placed under $1,000 bonds which up to Monday noon he had failed to furnish. The date of his trial will be set later.

OPEN TO ALL CREEDS

THE REV. H. E. JACOBS, field secretary of the Lutheran sanitarium at Wheat Ridge, Colo., delivered a lecture on that institution Sunday evening at Mount Olive church under the auspices of the Walther league branch of the church.

The institution, he said, was built by the young people of the synodical conference and while it is operated by Lutherans, anyone can enter it, regardless of creed, color or race or whether they have financial means.

The sanitarium was built at an expenditure of about $200,000 and has been in operation for two years. It not only looks after the physical welfare of its patients, but the spiritual as well.

The Rev. Mr. Jacobs occupied the pulpit of Mount Olive church, Sunday morning taking the place of the Rev. R. E. Ziesemer.

LEGION DELEGATES RETURN FROM SOUTH

Controversy Over General Sawyer Most Dramatic Incident Of Convention

That the more than 600 Wisconsin delegates to the American legion convention at New Orleans made a considerable showing is the opinion of the 7 Appleton delegates who returned on Sunday evening. The Beaver Dam Legion band of 48 pieces won third prize in the parade, while the Racine Legion drum corps won the first drum corps prize.

The issue which seems paramount in the minds of the delegates from their description of their experiences at convention was the controversy over Brigadier General "Over-Night" Sawyer, head of the Veterans bureau. They say that interest and excitement was at its height when the mo-

Postmaster William H. Zuehlke started Monday on the semi-annual inspection of rural free delivery routes. The first route to be inspected was Route 2, on which John Freude carries mail. The postmaster will investigate conditions on each route to see if regulations have been complied with. Road conditions, location of mail boxes, kind of boxes used and conditions of the posts, boxes and approaches will be inspected.

tion to indorse him as head and give him another chance was brought in. On their return the men toured through Vicksburg, where they were greatly impressed with the national park. They stopped in Memphis on their way down where they were the guests of the Memphis legion posts. Those who made the trip were Edgar Schommer, Walter Nitsche, W. B. Harrison, Peter Goerl, Harry Schlegel, Ben Schimick and Herbert Boetcher.

U. S. HAS GIVEN RED CROSS DUTY

Personal Work With Individual Impossible Without Red Cross Aid

The question is continually asked, why does not the government provide exclusively for the World War veterans? Why should the Red Cross be called upon to do something that appears to be so manifestly the duty and responsibility of the nation at large?

Secretary Weeks of the war department makes this statement particularly about the men who are still in the service:

"The nature of the Red Cross enables it to meet special situations or the individual for the handling of which no other governmental agencies exist. Cooperation in welfare work for the sick and the disabled in hospitals, home service work in the families of enlisted men; assistance in solving the problems of the individual soldier are problems specially committed to the Red Cross by the government."

Secretary Denby of the navy has this to say of the Red Cross as related to the naval service:

"The Red Cross is performing a service for the navy, the value of which cannot be overestimated. It is rendering this service because congress has so obligated it by its charter. Now that the veterans bureau is utilizing the facilities offered by the navy for hospitalizing the disabled men, there are added responsibilities placed upon the naval medical department in providing for their care and treatment."

"The Red Cross is the agency organized to represent the American people in standing by ready to render such service as will benefit the patients. The navy is not organized to represent the American family by personal contact."

LUMBER ORDERS HIT BIG AVERAGE

Lumber business is in a healthy condition and a considerable number of orders continue to reach producers, according to the weekly lumber market review of the American Lumberman. In some sections the fall business hardly has come up to expectations, while in others the volume was greater than expected.

Here and there orders are being sought by manufacturers but as a rule so much difficulty is experienced in getting cars that the manufacturers have to turn down rather than seek new business. Orders exceed the ability to ship with the result that unsold stocks are piling up at producing points. While trade in the farm districts possibly has not reached the total hoped for, building continues to hold up well for the season in the cities and towns. One situation balances the other so that with an increase in the demand from the industrial consumers the market for building lumber is very good.

So far as can be ascertained, there has been no over-building this summer, in fact, the demand for homes is almost as far from being satisfied as it was at the beginning of the year. Consequently, retail lumbermen located in cities and towns are expecting a good business in 1923 and not a few of them are anticipating a great volume of business than has been secured this year. In addition, it is expected that conditions will improve in the strictly agricultural districts, with the result that more lumber will be consumed by the farm trade.

Industrial demand for lumber continues good and furniture dealers, for example, are getting a good deal of business thru furnishing equipment for new homes. The outlook is for continued expansion in the industrial activity rather than a contraction, so it is believed that the demand for industrial lumber will hold up well.

Therefore, viewed from all angles, the demand for lumber should remain good, but the situation is complicated by transportation conditions. Lumber manufacturers can ship only a part of their production and buyers can secure material to satisfy only a part of their wants. Consequently, until the transportation situation is cleared up the lumber industry will not enjoy the volume of business general conditions warrant.

Court Unravels Tangle Over Custody Of Farm

Case Brought By Mrs. F. H. Schmidt Against Members Of Her Family Is Means Of Equitable Adjustment

One of the most complicated cases on record in circuit court here was disposed of last week by Judge Edgar V. Werner when he determined the rights of the parties under a deed delivered by James G. Clark of New London in 1916 the day before his death and resulting in a petition by Mrs. Marie Clark Schmidt, plaintiff and daughter of the decedent, versus Mrs. Clara Clark, her mother, Raymond, George, Irene, Margaret and Lucille Clark, her brothers and sisters, and Jacob Werner, Garret Sullivan, Henry Knapstein, Sr., and her husband, F. H. Schmidt.

Mrs. Clark's children, all minors, were represented by Attorney Thomas H. Ryan, their guardian. Morgan & Johns appeared for the plaintiff. Mrs. Clark and the other defendants were not represented. Complications had arisen over the title to the property.

FATHER DIED

On Sept. 16, 1916, the day before his death James G. Clark, anticipating death, and Mrs. Clark executed and delivered a warranty deed of their 120-acre farm in Bovina to the plaintiff, Marie Clark Schmidt, nee Clark, their daughter, then 16 years of age. The deed was subject to two mortgages, of $1,200 and $600 respectively, which Marie Clark assumed. The deed also was subject to the several conditions: That as long as Mrs. Clark remained single, she was to receive the income from the farm; in case of sale of the property, the other children were to receive certain portions of the proceeds but not until they reached a specified age; Jacob Werner, Garret Sullivan and Henry Knapstein, Sr., were named appraisers, and the property was not to be sold without their consent.

The day after the delivery of the deed the father died intestate. Miss Clark appointed her mother as trustee and placed her in charge of the management of the farm. Eventually an uncle, Benjamin A. Dempsey of Waukegan, was placed in charge of the farm after he had loaned money on a mortgage for improvements. Several tenants occupied the farm and one of them bought it on contract but was later released from the contract.

TOOK OVER CLAIMS

F. H. Schmidt of Chicago, husband of the plaintiff, later took over the claims on the farm held by Benjamin Dempsey when he paid the mortgage on the property.

Judge Werner determined that F. H. Schmidt is entitled to three liens on the property of $2,197, $2,778.45 and $324.55 respectively, and is entitled to recover from the plaintiff and the codefendants the sum specified with interest one year after the entry of the judgment, and in default of payment the premises are to be sold at public auction, in the same manner as provided for the foreclosure of mortgages.

PAY RYAN
No costs were awarded to either party, but Attorney Ryan is to receive compensation for services as guardian, which is to be paid by F. H. Schmidt.

An attempt will now be made by both parties to secure an order from the county court authorizing the sale of the property, after which equitable division of the proceeds will be made. The parties were for some time in a quandary as to whether the case should be brought up in the county probate court or the circuit court. The document transferring the property being considered a warranty deed rather than a will, the petition was presented in circuit court.

WHARTON BOOK IN BIGGEST DEMAND

"Glimpses Of The Moon" Draws
Most Readers For Week
At Library

"Glimpses of the Moon" by Edith Wharton, is the newest book appearing on the list in greatest demand at the public library this week. The novel has in many ways surprised the literary critics for although some may read in it only the collapse of a great ironist into sentimentality, others will find themselves excited by the sudden appearance in Mrs. Wharton, after so many years, of a quality perhaps fully as great as irony in its meaning to the novel that is, the gift of what is but feebly named when one has called it compassion.

What Mrs. Wharton does in "Glimpses of the Moon" is to present the case of a pair of married lovers, too idealistic to be good worldings, and too worldly to be confirmed practicing idealists who do, in the end, take the final plunge out of their convention and who do, in Emerson's phrase, give all to love. The characters are two modern young folk, a little cynical, a little disillusioned but secretly tender and very effectively equipped with sundry honorable, if old fashioned inhibitions.

"This Freedom" by Hutchinson and "Marie Chapdelaine" by Hemon, are the other fiction books on the popular list.

The two nonfiction books in great demand, "Mind in the Making" by Robinson, and "Story of Mankind" by Van Loon, have been popular for a number of weeks. They are classed among the most widely read books of the year and have probably created as much comment as any of the most recent books.

Why Over a Million Americans Now Bathe Internally

Accumulated waste in the lower intestine causes the majority of human ills. All physicians will tell you this, and that it also robs us of half our "pep" and ambition, causing headaches, biliousness, etc., even before we are ill.

Drugs never have and never can keep the intestine clean. By the use of pure warm water, administered by the "J. B. L. Cascade", it is thoroughly cleansed and the poisons are kept out of the system.

You will know what it really means to feel 100 per cent. in the morning after an Internal Bath the night before—but not until then.

So say many right here in this city, who have bathed internally for years and are now correspondingly healthy, happy, strong and ambitious.

Public Now Prefers Vegetable Laxatives

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin affords prompt relief in a natural way

THE public is constantly becoming more discriminating in its choice of things. Those subject to constipation try to learn what makes them constipated, and then avoid it. If constipation persists in spite of all their efforts they take the mildest, most easily tolerated laxative obtainable, and not a drastic physic that upsets them for days afterwards.

As over 10 million bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin are sold a year, a large proportion of the people of this country must believe that this mild vegetable compound is the proper remedy for them, and so it is. No need to take salt waters and powders that dry up the blood; coal-tar drugs in candy form that produce skin eruptions, or calomel that salivates. These drugs are "heroic measures", over-effective, weakening and griping.

The best constipation remedy is the one that moves the bowels without shock to your system, and such a one is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is a vegetable

ANY FAMILY MAY TRY IT FREE

Thousands of parents are asking themselves, "Where can I find a trustworthy laxative that anyone in the family can use when needed?" I urge you to try Syrup Pepsin. I will gladly provide a liberal free sample bottle, sufficient for an adequate test. Write me where to send it. Address Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 515 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois. Do it now!

compound of Egyptian senna and pepsin with pleasant-tasting aromatics, and has been satisfactorily sold for 30 years. Unlike the harsher physics it does not produce a habit, and increased doses are not required; in fact, it so trains the stomach muscles that in time medicines of all kinds can be dispensed with.

Many take a teaspoonful of Syrup Pepsin once a week as a health safeguard. Others use it only when required, as, for example, Mrs. J. W. Borroughs of Little Rock, Ark., who finds it equally valuable for herself and the children, and Mr. Enas S. Costa of Watsonville, Cal., whose family uses it regularly. Try Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin in constipation, biliousness, piles, headaches, sallow complexion, and to break up fevers and colds. A generous-size bottle can be had at any drug store, and it costs only about a cent a dose!

GERMANY NEEDS HELP OF UNITED STATES
The political and economic condition of Germany is going rapidly from bad to worse. The continuous and persistent issue of worthless paper money by the government has brought inflation to the point, or very near the point, when the product of the printing presses will no longer be acceptable for commodities in that country. The government must find some way in which to get to a solid monetary basis. Its wholesale emissions of worthless currency are very likely never to be redeemed. If they are it will not be for many generations. It is a question whether the government ought not to consider demonetizing its currency and commence a new issue based on gold. It certainly must have a secured currency of some form.

Unless measures of this kind are taken all reports indicate that Germany is likely to witness a revolution during the coming year, probably the winter, when the hardships of its financial collapse will be most severely felt. Reports from all portions of Germany indicate that the revolutionary spirit is abroad, that the people have been pushed well nigh to the limit and that the time is near at hand when they cannot be controlled. In case of a revolution there will be a desperate attempt by two extremes to get hold of the government and to entrench itself in power. One is the reactionary element of the old days, and the other is the radical and bolshevik element.

In her extremities Germany, we think, is looking to the United States for assistance more than to any other nation. We believe too, that the United States is in a position to help Germany and that it ought to do so, acting in concert, of course, with the allies. Germany should not be allowed to go on the rocks. We have seen what happened in a situation of this kind in Russia. We know what it means to the world and to us. We should take no chances on its recurrence, not only for Germany's sake but for the safety and security of other nations.

The American bankers association in its recent convention said that: "We believe that the time has come for the government of our country to formulate the principles on which it will be able to cooperate with other nations to bring about the needed rehabilitation of the European countries and peace in the world."

If we are not going into the League of Nations, is it not time that we undertook some sort of cooperation with nations like Great Britain and France for the restoration of peace and solvency in Europe? If Germany is plunged into civil war, with all its dangerous possibilities, it will be a reflection upon the American policy of isolation, for it has been apparent for the last three years that the other powers of Europe, although victorious in the war, are unable to agree upon a constructive European policy, and might not be able to render the necessary assistance even in case they could agree. It has been fully apparent all this time that Europe's greatest need was a directing moral force like the United States, coupled with substantial assistance.

ON A FIFTY-FIFTY BASIS
Kemal invites American capital to invest in public utilities in Turkey and its dominions. He wants money from the United States to be applied to the construction and operation of railroads, electric railways, light and power systems, telephone lines, and so on. Kemal suggests that Turkey would be satisfied with fifty per cent of the profits; this is what he calls a fifty-fifty basis.
Don't smile at this proposal because it emanates from Turkey. Many executives of public utilities in the United States have been of the opinion for some time that the best way to bring cities and communities and their companies into a permanent understanding might be by dividing the net profits.

SAVERS AND SAVINGS INCREASE
This is good news which Comptroller of the Currency Crissinger announces regarding savings. National banks report total savings of $3,016,034,000, as of June 30th this year, and the number of savers as 8,873,327. As compared with a year ago, the savings increased $88,499,000 and the number of savers 761,083.

Greater thrift is a promising sign, especially with extravagance all about us. It indicates that the people take cognizance of the fact that they cannot rely on wages or other income alone, but must put some of their money on deposit and build up capital. Capital is indispensable not simply as a reserve, but for success and independence.

PERSONAL HYGIENE
Health has never been made a popular objective, else it would be popularly achieved, for the people usually get what they set themselves to attain. In Panama the maintenance of health was made means to an end. In time of war, armies are kept well because victory may reasonably be expected to go on to the strong. In time of serious epidemic, fear serves to whip the populace into action that in some degree approaches a coordinated effort for the achievement of health, but for the most part people accept with unexplained complacency the ills they have and usually add to their natural and unpreventable ills by sordid habits or neglect.

This is partly because the full and efficient bodily function we call health is as unconscious a process as breathing and is noted principally by its disturbance. But breathing is as much an affair of the air as it is of a pair of lungs. The observance of Health Week next week brings out the important fact that good health likewise requires the cooperation of the organism and its environment. To make the physical environment favorable to health is a worthwhile objective, and to get the body in tune with a right environment constitutes the main business of life whether it ever changes to become a popular objective or not.

If heretofore the human organism has received too little consideration from the public, it is now coming into proper emphasis, for modern standardization in hygienic practice is really the crystallization of a better understanding and a higher evolution of physiologic requirements. The real basis of standards in lighting, in plumbing, in ventilation, is the manner in which these environmental conditions may best be fitted to man and made to conform to his physiologic needs.

The man who by nature is careful in his personal habits is reasonably safeguarded from the more common infectious diseases. To the dust of our streets may be charged the necessity of maintaining our large army of nose and throat specialists. Practical immunity from infectious disease is secured for a people whose streets are clean, whose houses are well ordered, whose work places and public halls are adequately ventilated, and who supplement adequate sanitary equipment by universal and continuous attention to matters of personal hygiene.

Hence it is that the real benefactors of a community are the employers who provide for the hygienic care of their workmen and whose facilities make health habits easy in their plants; the health administrators who take up the matter of health protection where individual effort fails; and the good citizens who see to it that their children are trained to conserve health and to cherish it as the greatest possible asset for the future.

THE GERCURITY OF "FRESH" EGGS
It is pretty generally agreed that eggs, like Caesar's wife, should be above suspicion. But, in case of this popular demand and desire, the ag-consumers must confront a steadily increasing effort to make eggs as insincere as divers' oaths or political promises.
It is a common practice, we are informed, for eggs to be put upon the market, as "fresh eggs," in the month of January, when the eggs are in the year of the year most of them laid in April, the month of highest quality. They are carefully candled and put into cold storage immediately. Until the last two or three months of the storage season they are so fresh that retailers often buy them from wholesalers, candle out the best and sell them as "fresh eggs."
Another faith—rudely wounded years ago, now dies in our bosom. We shall feel some fatal incertitude about the sincerity of eggs henceforth and forever. The flavor and savor of that enrapturing tradition fade away, and we return to our mutton or our hog and hominy.—COLUMBIA, S. C., STATE.

WORKING IT OFF
He thought he could fight it off.
Eustachy which might be appropriate for many a victim of a bad theory.
Tutting at windmills is a sensible pursuit compared with attempting to fight off pneumonia, tuberculosis or typhoid fever. The only safe place for one "threatened" by such an illness is in bed with a doctor and a nurse if possible, but anyway in a reasonably wide bed.

An attempt to fight off ordinary coryza or acute otitis media, however, is different. Every little while a vigorous fight against such an illness really does succeed. For the benefit of any one who may not understand what I mean by the terms coryza and acute otitis media, coryza is the genuine acute cold called "cold in the head," differing from the common or ordinary so called "cold" in that it remains coryza from beginning to end and does not "turn" into something else after a day or two when the doctor or victim finds that the first guess was wrong; and acute otitis media is ordinary acute ear ache caused by inflammation in the ear cavity inside of the drum. There are several other modes of treatment suitable for genuine coryza, and I intend to deal with them shortly. But first we shall try to fight it off.

No particular management or precaution is necessary after such sweating. It is immaterial whether you bathe, or whether you go out soon afterward, or whether you wear more or less clothing than usual. But yourself and your own comfort about such details and don't worry.
The time when such a fight is worth while is at the very onset. When coryza or otitis has become established definitely, say after the first six to 10 hours, it is bootless and injurious to attempt to work it off.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Brain Gems
Kindly give your recipe for bran muffins for consumption.—L. F.
Answer—One egg well beaten; pinch of salt, butter size of a walnut, melted; one cupful each of sweet milk, white flour and wheat bran; one teaspoonful baking powder. Bake in gem tins. Warmed to not to keep if there's boy or man in the house.

Adopting a Child
Would you advise a blood test or examination of any kind for a child you were thinking of adopting from a child's home, if the child's parents are unknown?—Mrs. H. L.
Answer—It would be well to ask your physician to examine the child and if the physician is not satisfied as to the child's health he may have any blood tests made.
Short Ration
I am a teacher. Can you get adequate nourishment from the following daily ration: One quart of milk, one-half pint of cream; one dish of cereal; one dish of rice, one piece of toast; four eggs? Kindly give me the caloric values of these items.—(H. O.)

Answer—The ration is inadequate in calories and probably in roughage and vitamins. Some fresh vegetables or greens or relishes and some fresh fruit should be added. A quart of milk yields about 650 calories; average dish of cereal, 200 calories; average dish of rice, 175 calories; average piece of toast, 80 calories; four eggs, 220 calories; total 1,225 calories. Average requirement for school teacher, 2,500 calories. Requirement for school teacher who takes necessary daily exercise to keep from becoming old maid, 3,500 calories.

Resume of American and Foreign Newspaper Opinion

REGARDLESS OF "BIG FOUR" GOVERNMENT MUST TAKE ACTION
Announcement by President Lee of the Brotherhood of Trainmen that the offensive and defensive alliance of the "Big Four" railway brotherhoods has been ended and that hereafter they will act individually in settling grievances has met with the complete approval of the nation's editors. Most of them take the position, however, that the change by no means should mean abandonment of anti-strike legislation affecting essential industries by Congress. They hold also that it sounds the death knell of the one big union idea of the radical laborites.
"The leaders of the Big Four," asserts the New York TRIBUNE, "are unquestionably the ablest labor leaders in America. It was all the more deplorable that these men should cease to be a source of fair play and good sense and should take the radical and threatening attitude that they have taken from the hour of the Adamson act down to the recent shopmen's strike. The whole country should be grateful to Mr. Lee for his frank and forceful words. But the TRIBUNE cannot see that the decision of the Big Four in the least weakens the need for legislation against the strike in any essential industry. Mr. Lee has enunciated a broad principle which must be enacted into the law of the land. It is to the interests of the members of the brotherhoods quite as much as to the interests of everyone else, that it shall be so enacted." The decision of the big four, the Washington STAR points out, "is the more important in view of the still prevalent disposition among certain of the more radical factors to develop the 'one big union.' During the recent railroad strike much was heard about the 'one big union.' It was urged then, as before, that only by concentrating all railroad unions under one head could a strike be won. The dissolution of the Big Four will distinctly discourage this radical movement with its possibilities of infinite mischief to the welfare of American labor."
The Lee statement is "surprising," the Richmond NEWS LEADER points out and he "exaggerates neither the dangers of national agreements nor the advantages of separate action." The members of the Big Four, he says, "are the railroad defense stiffens in direct proportion to the magnitude of the disaster that threatens the country. Applying the moral and casting aside the weapon of a general railway strike—a weapon they hesitated to use—the Big Four probably will benefit themselves as surely as they relieve the country." In addition the new policy "certainly should appeal to the public," the Manchester UNION feels, as "obviously the average citizen would prefer a regional tie-up of industry and transportation rather than a national stoppage of the wheels of commerce." And the impressive fact should not be overlooked that this new conception of trades union strategy tends more than ever to neutralize propaganda in behalf of one big union and offset the possibility that the nation might fall prey to the insidious efforts of the Communists; Bolsheviks and mass action chortlers. "This decision should hasten a considerable era of peace on the country's railroads," the Roanoke WORLD NEWS is convinced, but it warns that the most needed are conditions of fairness and amity on the part of both railway leaders and railway executives, and a conscientious effort on the part of Congress to devise some efficient means for protecting the interests of the railroads, the union men and the public. And it will be little less than a crime against the future for executives, labor leaders or Congress to fall down on the job."

This decision of "the most powerful" of labor groups, the Providence JOURNAL holds, can be traced to the openly expressed hostility of the country to the shopmen's strike which had a sobering effect upon the unions which were not involved. There was not a little talk of legislation providing penalties for the calling of strikes, the public being thoroughly sick of the trouble created by irresponsible agitators. The leaders of the other unions have acted wisely in avoiding a direct conflict with public opinion." The Utica OBSERVER DISPATCH feels that "the removal of the menace of a general strike will be hailed with joy by the public—the employers and the workers alike in the majority." It is time that someone began to realize that a strike that paralyzes a great basic industry is a selfish, individual, destructive movement. "The Minneapolis JOURNAL, going a step further, asserts that "the issue is really between democracy and centralization and colossal strikes mean, as Mr. Lee knows and openly proclaims, that the government must step in and control them. There is a better way and it lies in keeping the union's attitude toward employers and the public through direct man-to-man relations in regional group meetings and settlements. This method the rail brotherhoods are now adopting. The disaster to the shopcrafts organization has taught them a great lesson. No more nation wide strikes for them."
It is true that the people of the country are opposed to government control and domination of labor unions, the Detroit FREE PRESS points out, but when essential industries are threatened they are tempted to adopt desperate measures and they may do so unless some rule of reason penetrates the minds of the more assertive elements in the ranks of organized labor. It is certain that the people believe in the right to organize and the right to strike. But they also believe in the supremacy of organized government over every other form of organization." In addition, the Petersburg PROGRESS & INDEX APPEAL feels that Mr. Lee "probably has expressed a belief that is growing in the minds of every leader of organized labor." In fact his entire statement of position "is sound sense," the Columbus DISPATCH says, "and does credit to the judgment and spirit of the man who utters it. It is only unreasoning passion that can expect gain for a comparatively small fraction out of a policy which willfully sacrifices the vital interests of the great majority. Under proper circumstances the public will sympathize with any class of laborers who can show a genuine grievance; but not when the public itself is subjected to a great wrong by the method through which the grievance of labor is brought to its attention." The Port Huron TIMES HERALD in turn is convinced that "the only one big union, this country can stand for is the United States of America."

The announcement, according to the Boston TRANSCRIPT, indicates that "Mr. Lee has awakened from dreams of a general strike. If this change from conditions as they have recently existed really comes to pass it will mean the reappearance of common sense in dealings from which it has been conspicuously absent." While Mr. Lee says he will take sides with the government, against the unions, should another general railway strike seem imminent, the Charlotte OBSERVER insists that "the government itself has indicated a will and determination that the strike of the future is going to be conducted under conditions widely different from conditions which have obtained here in recent years. The strike has been Americanized," while the Wilkesbarre RECORD argues that the next step is a plan of arbitration "in which workers, employers and the public can have confidence. The compulsion in that form of arbitration would be voluntarily assumed, not established by force of law."

BALDNESS NO REASON FOR DIVORCE
London.—The Vienna correspondent of the Daily Express says: A Vienna husband has sought a divorce because his wife concealed before marriage the fact that she was bald and had deformed fingers and toes. The first sight of his wife after marriage without a wig excited "irresistible loathing," said the husband.
The wife charged the husband with infidelity, and pleaded that he could have examined her hair and hands before the wedding. The man told the judge that he could not remove his lover's stockings and gloves and pull off her hair.
A divorce was granted to the wife, with alimony, because the husband had been unfaithful.
In giving this decision the judge pointed out that the husband's loathing had not prevented the continuance of marital relations until his affections were placed elsewhere.
"A gentleman," the judge added, "would overlook a wig and deformities. Marriage is not a commercial contract by which goods can be returned if expectations are not fulfilled."
The Appeal Court has confirmed the decision.

GERMANY WATCHES NEAR EAST
Hamburg.—The interests of Germany are on the side of civilization, says a writer in the HAMBURGER FREIENBLATT, while discussing the Near East crisis. He says further: "German interests are also at stake in the conflict for Constantinople and Asia Minor; we must think first of all of commerce and navigation but we must also think of civilization. For this reason our diplomatic impotence is still more painful than our military weakness. But this must not prevent us from taking up a position in the face of events for this country. Sentiments of sympathy or antipathy must be silent. It is quite natural that the majority of Germans are following the victorious campaign of the Turks with more than the usual sympathy which is always shown when national pride and heroism triumph. But sympathies are of no use in politics. The great question is to know whether the Turks or the Greeks are to reign in Constantinople. This question may be decided in advance for the Turks for Constantinople has been, is still and must be the natural and historic bridge-head of their Asiatic empire. But the attitude of the great powers, especially the England and France is of greater importance in this matter. We must remember that the Turkish victory is a success for France. If England makes an effort to stop the march of the Turks, she turns at the same time against France, the ally of Germany. But it is doubtful whether the English people have the strength or the will at the present time for a big war in the East. For it would be a big war, a much greater one than the Crimean war which England fought 70 years ago as a friend of the Turks. It is most probable that Russia with whom Kemal Pasha has made an agreement, would in this case, join in the fight against Western capitalists."

MONEY VALUE OF PAYMENT IN KIND
Paris.—M. Le Troquer, Minister of Public Works, was the chief speaker at the unveiling of a monument to the men of Dinan who fell in the war. Reviewing the reparations question, he dealt at some length with the Luberau-Stinnes agreements which he promoted. "These agreements," the Minister said, "represent for France in particular twenty-five millions of francs (between 1,340,000,000 and 1,416,000,000) of labor and supplies of materials. This means the possibility of the recovery of a portion of our bill against Germany."

What's Become Of Our Old Friend Mr. Fit?
Years back the old clothing singsong was "it fits you like the paper on the wall."
In the glamour for business lately it's changed to "we're selling at lower prices than any other store in the paper."
The other day our Mr. Sauter made this remark—"When I get a Campus Togs coat on a man it pretty near sells itself!"
Yes—we are low in price and we talk about it a lot—but we'll bet a new golf ball that you can beat us all hollow on price right in this issue of The Post-Crescent—if you don't care what you say about the "quality and drape."

Worry Is Killer
Roger Dolan fishing in Portage Lake, Ontario, catches a dore—walleye-pike-perch, generally and incorrectly called Canadian pickerel.
Dolan kills the four-pound fish with a club, throws it in his canoe. Half hour later, on shore he cleans the dore; tears its insides out. Two hours afterward, he happens to notice the "cleanings"—and finds the heart beating normally and vigorously as if in the fish. Life still was present.
No one can explain it. But this much is probable: If the dore had the human ability to worry, its heart would have stopped in the canoe or when the insides were torn out.
Worry is a sure killer.
The national debt now is nearly two and a half billion dollars less than it was three years ago.
It was cut down $230,000,000 in September, lowering it to $22,812,407,791.
At this rate of reduction, the entire national debt would be wiped out by the year 1950. Don't expect it. Much of the reduction to date came from salvaging surplus materials. The junkman has finished the best of the picking.
Henry Ford orders his foremen to speed up production and install new machinery so that the output of Ford's will be 6000 a day by April 1, 1923.
Allowing for Sundays, Ford will be able to turn out nearly two million cars a year, the greatest industrial miracle of history.
Ford is always expecting better and better business. And he gets it for many reasons, chief of which is that he never hypnotizes himself into stagnation by "anticipating" depression.
In the long run, we usually get what we expect, no more, no less.
Maxim Gorky says that food furnished by the American Relief Administration has saved the lives of 9,000,000 Russians.
This cancels a considerable portion of the war's death toll. There has never been anything like it, in peacetime, in the way of relieving human suffering.
And still, abroad, we are called a selfish nation.
More than 17,000 business firms failed between the first of the war and Oct. 1. It's a big figure, but at least 1,800,000 companies went through the nine months without failing.
The liabilities of the failures exceeded their assets by about $200,000,000. Spread evenly over the whole population, this is less than $2 for each American.
Most of us looked at hard times through a high-powered magnifying glass. The lone ship that perishes at sea gets the attention. No one no time the vast fleet that rides the gale safely.
The biggest check ever drawn is exhibited in New York. It transferred $200,000,000 from the national treasury during the war, and was the beginning of the big debt owed to America by the allies.
Nearby, in the collection, is the check for $7,200,000, which paid for our purchase of Alaska from Russia.
There certainly is no limit to variety, when it comes to Uncle Sam's investments.

Q. What is the inscription on the bronze plaque of Theodore Roosevelt which was given to Michael Collins by American friends? J. W. C.
A. This plaque is in the office in Government House, Dublin, that was occupied by Michael Collins and bears the paragraph which might be called the creed of strenuous life. "I wish to preach not the doctrine of ignoble ease, but the doctrine of the strenuous life, of toil and effort, and of labor, and strive to preach the highest form of success that comes not to a man who desires more ease and peace, but to him who does not shrink from danger, hardships, and bitter toil and who, out of these, wins the splendid and ultimate triumph."
Q. Why do magazines have stars on the covers? G. L. P.
A. This is a distinguishing mark placed on the covers sold to news-dealers on a returnable basis. When copies remain unsold at the end of the sales period the covers of whole copies are returned to the publishers and credit is allowed. In this way subscribers' copies could not be collected and returned by an unscrupulous person who had attained standing with a publisher as a newsdealer.
Q. What will change ordinary flour to pastry flour? W. T. S.
A. Replacing two level tablespoons of flour with two level tablespoons of cornstarch in each cupful of flour used will give the desired change.
Q. What causes the itch? C. C. W.
A. Itch or scabies is caused by the pressure of larvae or mature specimens of Acarus scabiei, the itch mite. Although the itch is known to the Greeks and Romans, the cause was probably not recognized before the twentieth century. A case was reported in 1892 wherein the skin of the patient was estimated to contain 7,000,000 eggs and 2,000,000 mites. The disease caused 4.95 per cent of all skin disease in the United States.
What is meant by homogenized milk? D. P.
A. The Department of Agriculture says that such milk has been forced through a sieve fine enough to break up the fat globules.
Q. What is a han? O. M. S.
A. This is a word used in the Near East to designate a stopping place for travelers. It scarcely takes on the dignity of an hotel, since the rooms are furnished with nothing more than a pallet to provide a resting place for the weary sojourner. What causes birdseye in maple? F. R. R.
A. The Forest Service says that parasitic growths get into the wood of the maple and cause swellings which appear as eyes when the wood is sawed across. These do not harm the wood and make it more valuable.
Q. Why is the Black Sea said to be different from all other seas? B. F. P.
A. The existence of sulphuretted hydrogen in great quantities below 100 fathoms, the extensive chemical precipitation of calcium carbonate and the stagnant nature of its deep waters serve to make the Black Sea unique. The depths of this sea are lifeless.
Another peculiarity is that there is a layer of water between 25 and 50 fathoms which is colder than the deeper water. This is because the deep water is saltier than the surface water. This is because the deep freezing point and in the spring sinks water is practically motionless. In winter time the surface water reaches to the top of the saline deeper water.
Q. In what baseball park are the fences the closest for the batters to shoot at? T. D. W.
A. The Polo Grounds in New York City takes first place. Its left field fence is 288.8 feet away, and right field fence 256.3 feet.

Urge Mothers To Attend Baby Clinic Tuesday

Weighing and measuring of babies will be the thing in Appleton Women's clubroom on Tuesday and Wednesday for which all other things will give place. Dr. Mildred VanCleave will open her clinic for babies and mothers at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning, assisted by Miss Bertha Schultz, county nurse and other nurses in Appleton who are on duty.

Members of the health department of Appleton Women's club have been busy calling upon more than 100 women, who are either mothers of small children or prospective mothers, urging them to consult with Dr. VanCleave. While the women were in a district they went to not only the homes of those women whose names they had, but also to every home where they saw a baby carriage standing outside.

An automobile squadron has been organized to bring these women to the clubroom who live in the outskirts of the city who would not be able to get down town any other way. All women who have children under two years of age or who wish to ask questions of Dr. VanCleave are urged to call at the clubroom between 9 and 6 o'clock. She will make examinations without cost to the mother, but any illness or defect which is found will have to be treated by the family physician.

OSHKOSH UNABLE TO STOP STRONG LEGION ELEVEN

Sawdust City Grid Team Is Snowed Under Avalanche Of Scores

Kaukauna — The football game which was to have been the subject of the season, turned into a comedy Sunday afternoon on the local grounds when the American legion eleven pumped away with Oshkosh by the humiliating score of 45 to 0. The visiting team lacked every thing necessary except brains and they displayed that quality when they resorted almost entirely to the aerial method of play after finding the legion line impenetrable. After the beginning of the third quarter fans began clamoring for the "second team" and the team came on until the local lineup represented little more than the average high school team, in fact over half the team in the last quarter was made up of boys of high school age.

The visiting team most of all seemed to lack training and as a whole would not be compared with the team which last year held the legion to a 7 to 7 tie.

Oshkosh did not gain more than four yards on straight football during the game. They opened up in the second quarter on the passing game and although the majority of their attempts failed, they made several long gains. One pass netted 34 yards. In the last quarter they worked the ball into Kaukauna territory for the first time and the ball was on the local 35 yard line when the game ended.

Oshkosh grabbed a fumble when the legion tried a triple pass and worked the passing game, but were unable to go further. It was the only other time they had the ball in their possession on Kaukauna's territory.

Kaukauna scored within five minutes after the game started. Ran-nickie kicked off, Oshkosh was held and Kaukauna took the ball and the march was on. Smith dropped one over the bar for an additional point after the touchdown. A little later Oshkosh was able to hold for three downs on the 30 yard line. Lee Smith crossed back to the 40 yard white-wash and dropped the prettiest kick over the bar ever witnessed on the grounds.

The "youngsters" furnished much amusement for the fans by scoring two touchdowns one occurring when "Frenchy" Peranteau, last year's high school star freshman broke through and raced over from the 40 yard line in the second quarter for the regular team scored at touch-down on a pass from the 25 yard line from Lindauer to "Cooney" Bronzel behind the line.

TRAINING SCHOOL NOTES

Kaukauna Training School, Kaukauna—Last week the state inspector spent a day here and at the close of the session met with the teachers and discussed the work. She expressed herself as pleased with the organization and the management of the school. With her were County Superintendent Florence S. Jenkins of Appleton and the supervising teachers.

The senior class members are becoming intensely interested in publishing a school annual and from indications it will soon be under way. The managers are soliciting advertisements.

Mr. Hagman was the only teacher from this school to attend the meeting of the Northwestern Teachers association at Oshkosh. The other teachers are planning on attending the state meeting at Milwaukee next month.

Miss Peacock, Miss Carter, and Mr. Hagman assisted at the teachers institute held at Appleton last week. Friday afternoon the students of the beginning class presented a dramatization of Rip Van Winkle before the student body. The work was supervised by student teachers and altogether it was a very creditable piece of work.

Nearly Failed In Wish To Come To U. S.

An aged immigrant of Czechoslovakia, who was detained at Ellis island by immigration officials, has been released and is now on her way to relatives in South Kaukauna, as a result of the efforts of Mayor Henry Reuter of the Reuter Steamship Ticket agency.

Miss Antonia Janotta is 65 years old. During passage on the Steamer Manchuria she contracted a defect in her eyes. Eye trouble and senility were given as the reasons for her detention at New York. A request was sent to Mr. Reuter that he forward another affidavit of support necessary for her release. Mr. Reuter, who always has a fourth affidavit on hand for just such emergencies, forwarded the document to the authorities and the aged woman was released Friday. She is now enroute to Kaukauna where she will make her home with her sister, Mrs. Louis Wachel.

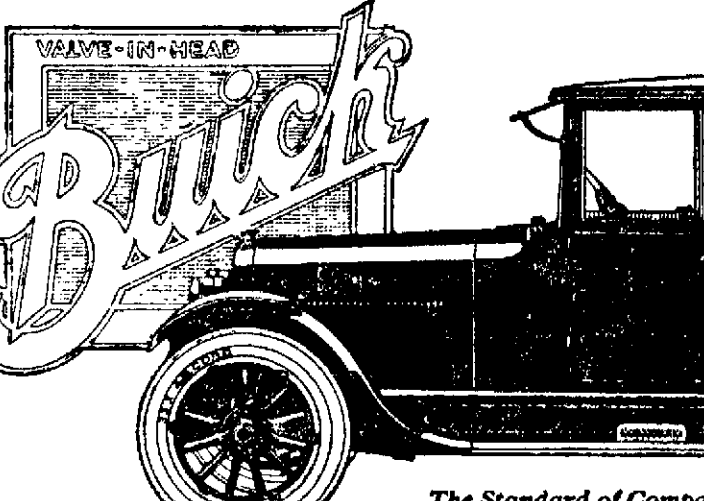

This is the fourth instance in Mr. Reuter's experience in which a passenger has been relieved by means of the extra affidavit of support.

PLACE MACHINERY IN NEW HERB MILL

First Pulp Will Be Shipped To Canadian Plant Within Few Weeks

Shipment of the first cargo of pulp will be made in a few weeks to the Westminster Paper mills of New Westminster, B. C., according to information received from J. L. Herb, president of the company, who formerly lived in Appleton. His brother, H. M. Herb, vice president of the company, recently joined him after spending the summer in Appleton selling stock. Quite a number of Appleton investors are interested in the plant, and O. P. Schaefer was recently elected a member of the board of directors.

Construction of the paper mills was begun last July, and now mechanics are at work assembling the machinery to be used in the manufacture of tissue paper. No less than 18 cars have been required to transport this mass of steel work. The first task will be on a large paper machine weighing 275 tons. One of the units weighs 15 tons and the cost in freight and duties alone in transporting it was $4,000.

Five thousand sacks of cement were used in the construction of a concrete floor that is to provide a strong foundation for the machinery as well as afford fire protection. Pressed brick was used in the construction of a concrete floor that is to provide a strong foundation for the machinery as well as afford fire protection. Pressed brick was used in the construction of the walls of the building. A boiler weighing 20 tons has been set up together with a smokestack. No power will be generated by this boiler, the plant operating on electrical power throughout, but the steam will be used for drying purposes.

ASK BLAINE TO RELIEVE FREIGHT CAR SHORTAGE

Cabbage growers of Racine and Kenosha have appealed to Gov. J. J. Blaine for aid in relieving the car shortage that exists in their vicinity. The crop must be moved within the next two weeks if the full return is to be realized, they claim. The car shortage for carrying potatoes and cabbage is acute in Wisconsin. Large crops have flooded the markets, while the withdrawal of railroad equipment to the west for hauling grain and to coal mines for carrying fuel, has further complicated the situation for farmers.

TEACHERS MAY VOTE IN CITY WHERE THEY WORK

The office of attorney general at Madison has issued an opinion to the effect that teachers have a right to vote in the city in which they are teaching. The position taken by the attorney general is that so long as a teacher has contracted to teach for a year or more, and is earning his or her own livelihood by following this profession and so long as he or she intends to remain in the precinct until possible to find a better position by going elsewhere, a permanent residence is established and the right to vote is granted.

"It's only a little truck I'd laid by for you," he retorted unsteadily. "—a few trifles for to make a grand lady of you when the time's ripe. 'Taint worth a thorn in your little foot to me. The hull gold-dingdoo foot full of money ain't worth that there stone bruise onto them little white feet of yours, Eve."

"Look at you now—my God, look at you there, all peaked an' scarin' an' bleedin'—plum tucked out, 'n' all ragged 'n' dirty—"

A blaze of fury flared in his small pale eyes. "—And he hit you, too, did he?—that skunk! Quintana done that to my little girl, did he?"

"I don't know if it was Quintana I don't know who he was, dad," she murmured drowsily.

"Masked, want he?"

"Yes."

Clinch's iron visage twitched and quivered. He gnawed his thin lips into control. "Gee, I gotta go out a spell. But I ain't a-leavin' you alone here. I'll get somebody to get up with you. You just lie snug and don't think about nothin' till I come back."

"Yes, dad," she sighed, closing her eyes.

Clinch stood looking at her for a moment, then he went downstairs heavily, and out to the veranda where State Trooper Stormont still sat his saddle, talking to Hal Smith. On the porch a sullen crowd of backwoods riff-raff lounged in silence.

Clinch called across to Smith: "Hey, Hal, g'wan up and set with Eve a spell while she's nappin'. Take a gun."

Smith said to Stormont in a low voice: "Do me a favor, Jack?"

"You bet."

"That girl of Clinch's is in real danger if left alone. But I've got another job on my hands. Can you keep a watch on her till I return?"

"Can't you tell me a little more, Jim?"

"I will, later. Do you mind helping me out now?"

"All right."

Trooper Stormont swung out of his saddle and led his horse away toward the stable.

Hal Smith went into the bar where Clinch stood oiling a rifle.

"I'm going after Quintana with you, Mike."

"Egosh, you ain't. You're a-goin' to keep watch here."

"No, Trooper Stormont has promised to stay with Eve. You'll need every man today, Mike. This isn't a deer drive."

Clinch let his rifle sag across the hollow of his left arm.

"Did you beef to that trooper?" he demanded in his pleasant, mischievous way.

"Do you think I'm crazy?" retorted Smith.

"Well, what 'he hell—"

"They all 'gosh' that some man used your girl roughly. That's all I said to him—keep an eye on Eve until we can get back. And I tell you, Mike, if we drive Star Peak we won't be back till long after sundown."

Clinch growled: "I ain't never asked no favors of no State Trooper."

"He did you a favor, didn't he? He brought your daughter in."

"Yes, 'n' he'd jall us all if he got anything on us."

"Yes; and he'll shoot to kill if any of Quintana's people come here and try to break in."

Clinch grunted, peeled off his coat and got into a leather vest bristling with cartridge loops.

Trooper Stormont came in the back door, carrying his rifle.

"Some rough fellow been botherin' your daughter, Clinch?" he inquired. "The child was nearly all in when she met me out by Owl Marsh—clothes half torn off her back, bare-foot and bleeding. She's a plucky youngster. I'll say so, Clinch. If you think the fellow may come here to annoy her I'll keep an eye on her till you return."

Clinch went up to Stormont, put his powerful hands on the young fellow's shoulders.

After a moment's glaring silence: "You look clean, I guess you're all right. I want to tell you I'll cut the guts out of any guy that lays the heft of a single finger onto Eve."

"I'd do so, too, if I were you," said Stormont.

"Would ye? Well, I guess you're a real man, too, even if you're a State Trooper," growled Clinch. "G'wan up. She's nappin'. If she wakes up you kinda talk pleasant to her. You set kind, pleasant and cozy. She ain't had no ma. You tell her to get snug and calm. Then you cook her a egg if she wants it. There's pie too. I realize to be back by sundown."

"Nearer morning," remarked Smith. Stormont shrugged. "I'll stay until you show up, Clinch."

The latter took another rifle from the corner and handed it to Smith with a loop of ammunition.

"Come on," he grunted.

On the veranda he strode up to

"I'll take such good care of it," replied Smith. "that its proper owner need not worry."
